BATH COUNTY BOY

INJURED BY CAR.
Owingsville, Ky., April 7. — The ten-year-old son of John Reid, near here, yesterday picked up a dynamite cap from a roadway. It exploded and tore a large hole in the boy's side, destroyed the sight of his right eye, and blew off all the fingers on his left hand.

Dr. Horace C. Wilson, of Aurora, Ill., will address the Presbyterian prayer meeting tonight. Come and hear this worthy son of the old town.

APPROPRIATE CEREMONIES AT UNVEILING WEDNESDAY

Beautiful Portrait of Aaron Houghton Corwine Unveiled by Miss Chloe Newell.

Very appropriate ceremonies were held Wednesday afternoon at the Public Library when the beautiful portrait of Aaron Houghton Corwine, native Mason countyman who made a success with the brush, was unveiled. There was a very good crowd gathered in front of the library building.

The chief address was made by Mrs. Clarence Wood, who gave a sketch of Corwine's life and thrilled her audience in recounting the many difficulties the young man overcame to develop his art. Her address was an inspiration to young Masonians. Mr. George H. Frank opened the exercises with prayer. Miss Chloe Newell, daughter of Judge and Mrs. C. D. Newell, unveiled the portrait which was brought to the front porch and in a short but very fitting talk, Mayor Russell accepted the portrait on behalf of the city of Maysville.

A place of honor has been chosen on the walls of the library by Miss Richeson, librarian, where the beautiful portrait shall overhang as a memorial to this worthy son and an inspiration to the youth of this city and county.

The Maysville Boy's Band played two of their popular pieces. One was "Margie" played as a solo by J. Embour Russell, Jr., with the band accompaniment, much to his credit for a fourteen-year-old boy and only one practice on the same; the other "Honolulu Eyes" by the whole band. These boys show what they can do with only one practice upon same. They have commenced now on the popular pieces so look out for the results.

BUTTON FACTORY WILL BE REBUILT ON NEW DOVER SITE

Citizens of Dover Donate New Site for Erection of Large Button Factory—Work to Begin at Once.

Mr. Broderick, one of the officials of the New Jersey Button Works, owners of the Dover Button Factory, whose plant was destroyed by fire a few days ago, is in Dover making arrangements for re-building the company's plant at that place just as soon as possible.

In order to give the employees of the factory work immediately, a temporary factory will be opened in a large warehouse in Dover just as soon as machinery can be installed and the regular employees of the plant will be put back to work.

In planning for the new structure, the company wanted a new site and the people of Dover, anxious to see the plant rebuilt and appreciative of the value of the plant to their town, wanted to help in some manner. Mr. Broderick suggested that the town might help by giving the company a better site, accordingly the citizens of Dover have made arrangements to purchase a new site in the rear of the Dover railroad station and adjoining the Adina farms tract, containing one acre. This will be donated to the Button works and they will begin immediately the erection on this new site in brick, concrete and glass factory building 35x125 feet with a store house addition 40x60 feet and a large boiler room.

The people of Dover are very much pleased to learn that the button works will be rebuilt at once and that a temporary factory will be opened within a couple of weeks giving employment to the number of Dover people who were thrown out of employment by the fire.

REDUCED RATES FOR APRIL MEETING OF K. E. A.

The railroads have granted a fare of 1 1/2 for round trip to Louisville for the annual session of the Kentucky Educational Association, which convenes April 19-22, 1921. This special rate is offered only to members of the association and dependent parties of their families and will be allowed only on presentation at starting point of identification certificate issued by the secretary of the association. All persons expecting to attend the meeting should write the Secretary, R. E. Williams, 4518 Southern Parkway, Louisville, for the certificate. County superintendents, city superintendents, principals and other interested school people should see that their teachers enroll and obtain the certificate before coming to Louisville, as the ticket agent will not be in position to allow the reduced fare without the certificate. Tickets will be sold at special reduction only on April 18 and 19.

In the Mason County Court this afternoon a paper bearing date of October 1, 1912, and purporting to be the last will and testament of James W. McIntosh, deceased, was filed. The due execution of the paper was proven by testimony of Katherine S. Jones, and J. H. Power, the attesting witnesses, and admitted to probate. Alvin McIntosh, named in the will, qualified as executor without surety as requested in the will.

MONROE SALISBURY IN A NEW BIG FILM

"The Barbarian," a Pioneer Attraction Heralded As One of the Best Here This Week.

Monroe Salisbury is coming to the Washington and Gem theaters for a two days engagement beginning Friday in "The Barbarian," a Pioneer attraction adapted for the screen by E. P. Heath from Theodore Salkus Solomon's story and directed by Donald Crisp.

Mr. Salisbury is supported by a selected cast of players headed by Jane Novak, who is said to possess the most beautiful eyes of any motion picture actress, and including Barney Sherry, Alan Hale, Lillian Leighton, Elinor Hancock, Anne Cuddey, Michael Cuddey, Milton Markwell, George Burrell, Sydney Dean and Marcel Daly.

"The Barbarian," which has been declared by critics to be one of the most notable films of the year, is a powerful dramatic story of conflict between right and wrong. Its principal character, played by Mr. Salisbury is a clean, unsophisticated boy of the woods. Knowing no phase of life except his own, he is uncouth and unused to the refinements of metropolitan civilization. He meets a society girl from the city with whom he falls in love. This forms the basis of one of the most beautiful romances of the screen, a story that will linger long in memory because of its sweetness and beauty.

INDIAN MINSTRELS FEAST.

As an appreciation of their faithfulness and co-operation, and for the efficient service rendered in giving the minstrel performance, by those Redmen Monday and Tuesday nights, a very delightful social evening was given them by Harry C. Curran which took the form of eating, toasting and enjoyable companionship Wednesday night at 7:30. The assemblage met in the Red Men's hall and by 8 o'clock were ready to adjourn to the dining room of the Model Restaurant where a large table laden with good things greeted the eye and whetted the appetite, prepared by those expert caterers Frost & Hauke. Two hours were passed amid the happiness of fraternity and friendship — those bonds of love which refresh the spirit and make glad the heart, filling life with sunshine and softening the road over which we must travel from the cradle to the grave, for youth exclaims "Man! How like a God; where old age muses—Man! fades like a leaf."

PRAYER MEETING TONIGHT.

The regular weekly prayer service will be held at the First Baptist church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Following the prayer service the regular monthly church meeting will be held. Important business is to come before the church.

ARGUMENTS HEARD IN SUIT AGAINST LEWIS COUNTY

Case of Ed Rand vs. Lewis County and Fleming Jones for Damages is Taken Under Adjudication by Judge Newell.

Practically all of today in the Mason Circuit Court was taken up in arguments upon a demurrer to jurisdiction in the case of Ed Rand vs. Fleming Jones and Lewis county in which the plaintiff seeks damages in the sum of $12,000 from the defendant.

This case involves considerable road work in Lewis county contract for which was awarded by the county to Fleming Jones. Afterward the bridge building work was turned over to the plaintiff Rand and after having completed two of the bridges on the proposed work, Rand was paid and agreement was entered into between Lewis county and Jones ending the contract. Rand maintains that through this contract which he alleged is a fraud, Jones and Lewis county enter into a collusion to defraud him of the building of the third bridge in the contract.

He is asking $12,000 and County Attorney Strother, of Vanceburg, has demurred to the jurisdiction of the Mason Circuit Court and at the same time has filed an answer. The case is so complicated and involves so many contracts and counter contracts that Judge Newell has taken the motions under advisement. The plaintiff is represented by Hon. A. D. Cole, of this city, and H. D. Wilson, of Vanceburg.

FIVE KILLED IN SOUTHERN RAILROAD WRECK

Coaches Derailed on Fast Southern Passenger Train Near Soumer. Five—Thirty-Five Are Injured.

Somersot, Ky., April 7. — Five persons were killed and more than thirty-five injured when six coaches of the northbound Royal Palm Limited were derailed on the Southern Railroad Wednesday afternoon at New River, Tenn., thirty miles from the Kentucky line.

The train was running at rapid speed down grade when spreading rails caused the wreck. The first coaches turned over and virtually all the casualties were passengers in these coaches.

Several of the passengers were hurled through the windows, but flying glass and debris accounted for most of the casualties. The engine and tender did not turn over and none of the train crew was hurt seriously.

The dead and injured reached Somersot, fifty miles from the scene of the wreck, at 8:30 o'clock last night on a special relief train sent out from Somersot yesterday afternoon. The facilities of Dr. Beard's Sanatorium were not ample to care for all the injured and at least fifteen were cared for in private homes.

Four of the injured are in a serious condition, according to a statement late today of physicians at the hospital.

CLARENCE MATHEWS, Editor and Manager
Entered at the Postoffice, Maysville, Kentucky, as Second Class Mail Matter
RATES IN ADVANCE: By Carrier or Mail, $3 per year; $1.75, Six Months;
40 Cents per Month.

OUR POLICY:

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

A POOR WOMAN.

Justice Joseph Morehauser, of the Supreme Court of New York, has allowed Mrs. James A. Stillman $7,500 a month as temporary alimony, counsel fees of $35,000, and $12,500 for expenses. Mrs. Stillman asked for $10,000 a month and $75,000 counsel fees, but Justice Morehauser, hard-hearted creature as he is, evidently without sympathy or understanding of the needs of a poor working woman, cuts her claim for alimony of $120,000 a year to the beggarly pittance of $90,000 a year, and requires her husband to pay only $35,000 counsel fees and $12,000 for other expenses—a total of $47,500, instead of the $75,000 she asked.

All must sympathize with Mrs. Stillman and her attorneys. Some will of course sympathize with Mr. Stillman. He is only worth forty or fifty or sixty million dollars at the most, according to published accounts. What service he has rendered to state or Nation or humanity to gain this meager competency we do not know. But from the revelations so far made in the proceedings between him and his wife it must have been most noble service.

He and she represent dominant factors in New York's financial, social and religious life. Mr. Stillman's father was a great banker—whatever that may mean. It meant, at any rate, that in his service to the public he gained enough to give fair assurance that the wolf of hunger would not break in his door, however much the harpies of vice might tread his home and capture his son. And Mrs. Stillman—the proudest blood of the North and South mingle in her veins—the blood of bishops and bankers, actors and actresses. The poor woman now is informed of the fact that for the time being at any rate she must worry along with a pittance of $90,000 a year, and her lawyers—noble lights of the "greatest profession to which man has devoted his mind," as it has been characterized—can only count absolutely certain on $35,000.

Of course there are other incidental matters of more or less moment involved in this case. Mr. Stillman charges that a half-breed Indian guide is the father of Mrs. Stillman's last child. Mrs. Stillman charges that Mr. Stillman is the father of one or two little cherubs, the mothers of which cherubs were not his wife, or wives—we leave to the Professor of English at the University of Kentucky how that sentence ought to be—but the charge seems to be, as far as we have been able to ascertain, that Mr. Stillman is the father of two or three cherubs, all of about the same age, and that two or three of the mothers are not his wives. But of course these incidental charges sink into insignificance in the light of the great tragedy of the hardship Mrs. Stillman and her children—by one or more men, according to Mr. Stillman—must undergo.

NOW LET'S WORK.

It begins to look as if the world is going to settle down and have a little peace. Germany adopts a law providing for disarmament and against any armed associations in the land. Russia makes formal peace with Poland and the Ukraine and decides that it is best policy to quit the world revolution talk and pick up friendly relation with other nations. Turkey begins to look as if she is satisfied with the new arrangements recently agreed to by the Allies. Mexico is at peace at last and the Panama spark has died out.

The only country that seems to have a chip on its shoulder is Greece. This little country is threatening a scrap with the Turkish nations, and the king has ordered out the reserves. The chances are, however, that it is all a bluff. Greece is poor as a rook and very heavily in debt besides. A three-months' war would cost her a great many millions and with little gain even if she should win. It is very probable that France and England will prevail on the Greeks to keep the peace.

It is nearly two and a half years since the armistice. It was not to be expected that after such a tremendous upheaval the world would fly instantly to peace. But time has slowly brought about the desired conditions, and it is now up to the peoples of the earth to work—and save themselves.

THE HEROES OF THE MAIL.

Will Hays' remark that he intends to humanize the postoffice under his administration as postmaster general is worth watching for results.

There are nearly 400,000 men and women in the nation's postal department. Taking care of the mails is a job that requires system, and after a while, the more system, the more deadly will become the routine. When a man makes the same trip every day in the year, such as the letter carrier does, the routine must pall on him. When a man is shut up in a mail car day after day and year after year, seeing nothing but bags of mail and gaping pigeon-holes in front of him, it is to be expected that he will presently rebel against the routine of it all.

These men—the letter carriers and railway mail clerks—are real heroes. They go out into all sorts of weather to deliver your letter to you, and they are at their posts on the train regularly and promptly to see that your letter travels properly over the country. If Will Hays' humanizing means that life is to be made better and more pleasant for them, we are for it.

If fact, we are always for the humanizing thing, whether it is in the postoffice department or out in general business and industry.

REMARKABLE REMARKS.

"The railroads have touched bottom. We cannot expect a boom but we can expect a steadily increased traffic as the season opens up."—T. De Witt Cuyler, chairman, Association of Railway Executives.

"There is no such thing as a surplus wealth as long as there is hunger or want in a country."—Frederick C. Howe, New York author and economist.

ELIMINATE UNDERNOURISHMENT
WITH MILK, SAY EXPERTS

Many Cities and Communities Join in Combat to Eliminate Undernourishment of Children.

The story of a nationwide effort to eliminate undernourishment in growing children is told in the scrapbook of a milk specialist from the United States Department of Agriculture who has co-operated during the past two years in more than forty milk campaigns held in cities and rural districts throughout the United States. All of these campaigns have been held in the interest of better health for the children, and in every case where a milk campaign has been put on there has been an increase in the consumption of milk, which has amounted to as much as thirty per cent. in some cities. What this means to the health of the country is hard to measure, for milk campaigns put on in one city have resulted in more campaigns in neighboring cities and rural districts, and the milk week has grown into a lengthy education on the food value of milk.

The milk campaign week was started in Connecticut in 1918, when six cities, the first of which were Hartford and New Haven, organized to combat undernourishment among their school children. The movement spread to Rhode Island, where Newport took up the work, and this campaign was followed in rapid succession by campaigns in four New Jersey cities. Boston then went a step further, and put on a twelve-months campaign. Among other cities which have taken up the work are Detroit, Pittsburgh, Kansas City, Topeka, Dayton, Iowa City, Akron, Spokane, Seattle and Madison. Other cities have planned campaigns; and Iowa and Kansas put on a statewide campaign for two years, with splendid results.

Shows Necessity of Milk.
Dit is behind this great interest in milk? Undernourishment. There are many children that are underweight and undernourished. A survey of 10,000 Chicago school children showed that forty per cent. were seven per cent. underweight, and the investigators were surprised to find that of those underweight, fifty-seven per cent. were from comfortable homes in the residential section, and only 16.2 per cent. were from the stockyards district. "This fact," says the milk utilization specialist, "demonstrated the necessity for teaching more about the value of foods, for the fault here was not poverty but ignorance of the necessity of certain foods for growing children."

A survey conducted in New York showed that from 1914 to 1917 the percentage of undernourishment had increased from 5 to 21 per cent., and had accompanied a decrease of 25 per cent. in milk consumption.

Undernourishment is not confined to the cities. In one of the counties in the richest agricultural section of Kansas it was found that of 639 children in thirty school districts, 140 were at least ten per cent. underweight, and only forty-two per cent. of them used milk every day. Also in three townships in Iowa fifty-one per cent. of the children were underweight.

Before Naming Your Executor

Think carefully of the disadvantages of naming an individual to act in that capacity. He is subject to every human misfortune, and your interests in his charge are imperilled accordingly. He may be inexperienced; he may prove incompetent or dishonest; he may be burdened with other duties; he may be absent when his presence is most needed; he may meet with an accident, become ill or mentally unbalanced; he will surely die, possibly soon.

This bank is better fitted to act as your executor than any individual. It performs its duties with intelligence, economy and fidelity because it is absolutely unbiased by any personal considerations and does its work with the combined training, ability and honesty of a number of men of proven character and successful business experience, and is surrounded by the strongest legal safeguards. PLENTY NAILS AND SUGAR NOW

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — How the old pastimes do return! No one has thought of selling the Grand Central Terminal for quite a long time now. In fact the new one never had been sold until just the other day. Confidence men have rather specialized on Grant's Tomb, the Equarium and the Brooklyn Bridge. They used to be able to get a fair price for one of them every once in a while. And "Grand Central Post," created by Bartlett's book of quotations with the authorship of "There's a sucker born every minute," made a regular profession of selling the old station. But here in 1921, with airplanes flying around and wireless telephones in practical use, two good salesmen disposed of the new Terminal for $1200 to George Pantz, who runs a restaurant right here on Manhattan Island. He complained to the police about it, which was pretty brave of him, all things considered.

"Why DOESN'T she brush the powder off her eyelashes?" The words came musically in a perfectly clear voice, from a gentle-looking girl next to me in the subway. She was gazing at the woman opposite us and it was a half-minute before she realized that she had spoken out loud. The much-be-powdered woman, who had, sure enough, left a coating of it on her eyelashes, grasped the situation at the same time. She grew almost apoplectic as she glared at the gentle-looking girl, while the girl herself got white and then crimson and sat as far back of my hat and furs as possible. "Oh, I didn't mean to say that; I didn't know I was talking out loud," she murmured over and over, apparently to me. At the next station she hurried off the train.

Margale Gilmore, who made considerable of a hit as Sylvia Fair in "The Famous Mrs. Fair," when that play was first produced by Henry Miller and Blanche Bates, will appear not autumn in Eugene O'Neill's new play, "Straw," under the management of George C. Tylehr. O'Neill has achieved an enthusiastic following and one of very good size, in these past two seasons, and in spite of the fact that a great many people still find him too "gloomy," his public will undoubtedly continue to increase. Miss Gilmore is a daughter of Frank Gilmore, secretary of the Actors' Equity Association.

Three or four times a year there comes to New York proof that the romance and heroism has not completely died out of "shipping by sea." That is when the little freighter from Iceland, the "Lagerfoss" comes into harbor. It arrived the other day on one of its trips, having come through some of the worst weather of the year. It had taken them 19 days from Reykjavik, where it usually takes twelve or fourteen, which gives some idea of what the weather was. An officer of a big line at the next pier shook his head as he looked at the Lagerfoss. "That little cockleshell isn't much larger than your sightseeing boats that run out to the Statue of Liberty. Think of her passing Cape Race in such weather, 700 tons, with 200 tons of hides in her hold! The passengers on our liners talk about storms but you've got to take your hat off to those Johnnies, going about as if nothing had happened with the ice raft in the water most of the time and waves higher than her superstructure."

A permanent shrine will be built for the "Christus de Profundis," the carving of Christ's head, cut on a bean by a Spanish prisoner, 225 years ago, which has just recently come into the possession of Mrs. H. William McFadden of New York. The carving has arounds tremendous interest here, not only because of its unusual origin and the mystery of its creator, but because of its actual beauty and artistic perfection. Mrs. McFadden is planning the erection of a small building about twelve by twenty feet, in the style of the old Spanish temples, where the day carving may be suspended within

MRS. HAYDOCK SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Followed Advice of Her Druggist's Wife and Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill. — "I was in bed with a female trouble and inflammation and had four doctors but none of them did me any good. They all said I would have to have an operation. A druggist's wife told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took 22 bottles, never missing a dose and at the end of that time I was perfectly well. I have never had occasion to take it again as I have been so well. I have a six room flat and do all my work. My two sisters are taking the Compound upon my recommendation and you may publish my letter. It is the gospel truth and I will write to any one who wants a personal letter." — Mrs. E. H. HAYDOCK, 6824 St. Lawrence Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved Mrs. Haydock from an operation we cannot claim that all operations may be avoided by it, but many women have escaped operations by the timely use of this old-fashioned root and herb medicine.

A circular ease of magnifying glass, so that it may be viewed from every angle.

Greater New York always takes a sympathetic, if sometimes slightly patronizing, interest in the affairs of upper New Jersey, insisting upon considering everything from New Brunswick up, as "suburban." Consequently, now that it has lost the edge from its excitement over knowing whether or not Dorothy Miller would marry somebody for $1,000, it is getting wrought up over the Trenton ghost. Some months ago, John Koch killed himself in Trenton, and lately he's been seen, it is said on good authority, prowling about interrupting the affairs of people who had no part whatever in any suicide. The climax came when a man hurled a lamp at the walking ghost the other night and failed to make any impression, except on the empty wall beyond. Now New York city science followers are making up little parties to spend the evenings in Trenton at spots favorable to first hand demonstrations. The ghost not only walks but talks.

FINNS TO COMBINE BUSINESS AND PLEASURE.

A gigantic excursion to Finland, to start the latter part of May, is being arranged by a group of Finnish-American business men in Michigan and Minnesota. The purpose is two-fold—to visit friends and relatives in the old country and to promote profitable trade relations with America.

About 1,000 Finns took part in a similar excursion last year, and were royally welcomed in Finland, but this year the committee in charge believes the number will be even greater, and every effort is being made to render the trip pleasant, even to the extent of organizing a male chorus of 25 singers to furnish music on the voyage.

DATES SET FOR "BETTER AMERICAN SPEECH" WEEK.

"Better American Speech" is slogan and name of a new national committee added by Mrs. John D. Sherman to the Education Division of the Department of Applied Education. Mrs. Katherine K. Robbins, 410 S. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, is chairman and she announces a nation-wide campaign for a better American speech to be launched during the week of November 6th-7th. Helpful text books at small cost have been prepared for use by clubs, schools, civic organizations, and the press, and a bibliography of the helpful books and magazines is announced by the Chicago Woman's Club, pioneer club in the movement.

Elimination of slang and profanity, use of English in all schools and use of good English by all Americans, promotion of Americanization and development of the power of expression are chief objects of the campaign. "Get Rich!" Learn the meaning and the correct use of three new words each week. It will pay well!

"Shabby," careless speech is as bad as slovenly clothing. Respect the beautiful language of America, and others will respect you!

"Do you speak correctly? Begin the habit today of using good speech and it will last all your life."—are among posters recently used by the Woman's Club of Milwaukee in conducting a city-wide celebration of an American speech week.

AN OLD LETTER.

Mr. D. F. Miller, near Buffalo, showed us a letter last week written in December, 1808, or 112 years ago.

It was written by William G. Pollock from Louisiana, but whether from Louisiana, Kentucky or Virginia, could not be told. It was written to John Anderson of Nelson county concerning the settlement of an estate.

The letters of that day had on envelope, but the letter was folded so it could not be read and a wax seal fastened to the edge of the paper. The postage was 2 cents.

Mr. Miller sent it to a relative out West who is looking up some of her family history. — Hazardville, Herald-News.

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

What a Heap of Happiness It Would Bring to Maysville Homes.

Hard to do housework with an aching back. Brings you hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause—that Backache pains often come from weak kidneys.

"I would save much needless woe. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys."

Read what a Maysville citizen says: Mrs. William Farley, 128 East Second street, says: "Not long ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me a world of good. I am pleased to recommend them. My back hurt nearly all the time and I couldn't do my washing on account of the misery in my back. I couldn't sleep at night and mornings I could get up feeling all right. I would be dizzy and could see black specks before my eyes. My kidneys didn't act regularly and in other ways showed signs of disorder. My hands and arms would get numb and cold. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly advertised so I went to Wood & Son's Drug Store and got a box. I began using them and was soon rid of the trouble."

Price 60 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Farley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

NAME FORGED TO LICENSE TO WED, GROOM ALLEGES.

Hazard. — Another negro used his name in procuring a marriage license here in October, 1920, according to Ross McNear, who received a permit to wed from the Perry county clerk. When McNear applied for a license to wed Maggie Jones, of Tennessee, it was discovered by the clerk that a Ross McNear, giving his home as Alabama, and with the same parents as those given by the negro, had been granted a passport to matrimony with Elizabeth Smith. McNear declares that he does not know the woman named in the first license. The license was granted.

TWO ALLEGED FORGERS HELD TO GRAND JURY.

Danville. — Asa Taylor, negro, charged with forgery, was held to the grand jury on $300 bond. Taylor was arrested when he presented a check at a local store purporting to be signed by Fox Caldwell. He is also charged with forging the name of Charles Ceil and J. A. Robinson. Lucien Hoque, of Alum Springs, charged with forgery, was held to the grand jury on $200 bond. He pleaded guilty to signed the name of his cousin, James Hoque, to an $18 check.

WHISKY WAS LABELED AS TOMATOES.

Jacksonville, Fla., April 6. — With the capture here of a carload of whisky, valued at more than $45,000, billed as tomatoes, en route from Her-rine, Fla., to Chicago, Federal officials believe they have found the source of a nation-wide liquor smuggling syndicate. WHISKY BAN BLAMED FOR CUT IN REVENUE.

The total amount of taxes collected by the Internal Revenue Department in Kentucky during March, 1921, was $7,237,651.59, or a decrease of $1,606,286 over March, 1920.

Income tax made up the bulk of the collections, with a total of $6,697,131.32. The income tax showed a gain of $261,032.06 over March, 1920.

The decrease in the total amount of taxes collected is thought to be due to the banning of whisky withdrawals. Whisky tax totaled $824,000 during March, 1920, and only $84,000 last month.

Decreases in prices of commodities have resulted in a decrease of luxury taxes and in other excise taxes.

FARM BODY TAKES UP CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING PLAN

President of Federation Says Prospects Agriculture Will "Start Hum of Mills and Song of Laborer Throughout Land."

Chicago, April 7. — The ratification conference on the co-operative grain marketing plan submitted by the Farmers' Marketing Committee of seventeen assembled here Wednesday.

Details of the plan prepared during nearly a year of conferences to market the majority of the farm products of the country under the most favorable price conditions were submitted to representatives of the various farm organizations behind the proposal.

"The plan provides purely and simply for the farmer to enter upon a program of conducting his own business of marketing," said C. H. Gustafson, chairman of the committee.

"It is purely co-operative plan offered in competition with existing unsatisfactory methods of marketing. We believe that while recognizing the farmer an equitable and just return on his grain crops by effecting savings, avoiding speculation, preventing needless duplication of effort and eventually stabilizing the market for grain crops.

"We are told that the farmer now receives 34 cents of the dollar that the consumer pays for farm products. There is need to change that ratio. It has apparently been the function of the farmer to produce and then take his chances with market fluctuations and with market conditions where waste, duplication, manipulation and speculation have operated to turn the law of supply and demand upside down.

"Two years ago we had the price of corn changing from $1.50 down to $1 at crop time and then before the next crop of corn was produced corn went to approximately $2 a bushel.

"We farmers have come to believe there is something fundamentally wrong with a price determining machine that will function in that manner, and it is time for both farmer and city man to recognize the possible benefits of co-operation.

"In my own experience with the Nebraska Farmers' Union we handled more than $40,000,000 worth of business last year in our live stock commission company alone and returned 50 per cent of the commissions to our patrons at the end of the year."

"The most potent cause in our present social unrest and commercial stagnation today lies in the fact that there is no farm market," President I. R. Howard, of the American Farm Bureau Federation, told the ratification conference.

"The farmer's purchasing power is gone because his prices are far below par and his markets are gone. A prosperous agriculture will start again the hum of the mills and the song of the laborer throughout the land.

"Co-operation won the war. The American farmer today in his demand for co-operative rights challenges all other peoples to come with him and through nationwide and world co-operation replace abnormality with normalcy.

"For years the American farmer has suffered from uneconomic and speculative marketing systems. Countless thousands of farmers stand today bowed by the hope that this meeting will evolve their 'magna charta'."
